RSS Feeds are here

This ancient format is a reminder of the free web.

Companies hate RSS Feeds. It offers them no information regarding who is using their service and makes it impossible to get ad revenue. We care about your experience more than that, so we are perfectly happy to provide a wide variety of RSS feeds.

RSS FEEDS

We offer our Daily AI-Generated news summaries and seperately our Posts aggregate or per topic feeds in both RSS and atom formats.

Really Simple Syndication is straight from the 1990s. They used to dominate, but then social media became way more accessible. Content can now be updated without a separate feed, yet as AI Models started using MCPs more and more, so RSS is once again growing in popularity as can be seen below, as AI loves the text based content the way RSS presents it.
