That's old news

We added a warning if an article is outdated.

We have a lot of articles. We don't always have time to go months back to update with the newest information.

To avoid any misunderstandings we have implemented a feature where articles older than 1 month will have a warning at the top regarding article age.

The market moves fast and sometimes people forget to check dates. This warning should reduce the risk of people being misinformed because they forgot.
